Habeas Corpus Proceedings to Secure Bond for Alleged Lynchers.

WITNESSES ABSENT.

They Will Be Summons and in the Meantime the Examination of Some Will Take Place—Humphries Widows Missing.

Athens, Tex., Aug. 10.—Judge Lipscomb began yesterday the hearing of the application for a writ of habeas corpus recently made by the attorneys for the men who are charged with the lynching of the Humphries in the Trans-Cedar district in this county last May.

People began to assemble in the Henderson county courtroom at 10 yesterday morning, the hour at which court was to convene.

Outside of the attorneys for the state and a few of the relatives of the defendants, however, none of those directly interested in the case put in an appearance, and in a few moments it was announced that the hearing had been postponed until 1 o'clock.

No one seem to know where the three place near their home across Cedar the auditor and they went to another creek. The officers and others who profess to know refuse to give any information on the subject.

In the afternoon but few persons ap peared in the courtroom before the prisoners were brought in. Afterwards the place filled up rapidly until the throng was nearly if not equally as great as on the opening day of the preliminary hearing a month ago.

Much delay was occasioned by a consultation on the part of the attorneys for the defense held in anteroom with John and Arthur Greenhaw and Polk Weeks, the three men who have made statements to the prosecution concerning the lynching.

There were many sensational rumors afloat regarding this consulation. These rumors had reference to testimony which the three men might give during the

After some discussion it was agreed to go ahead with the hearing and then, if the absent witnesses had not put in an appearance that a postponement would be granted until they could be brought into court. The further agreement was also made that the case against W. A. John should be heard and in case he was granted bail, it would apply equally to all of the Africa. defendants, but in case he was refused bail the order would not apply against the other defendants, that each of the defendants was charged with the commission of three murders, and that the same agreement applied to each,

A further agreement was made that the transcription of the shorthand report of the testimony given at the preliminary hearing, with the exception of that of Polk Weeks, would be read the court as original testimony.

When that was furnished either side find matters stated record that were incorrect, nesses might be placed on the correct such matters or to g mony more in detail, should the not be sufficiently complete.

In addition to this either place additional witnesses on The inference was that in a new testimony that of Pe would be heard again.

Then the reading of testim was begun by J. J. Faulk. continued by various attor 7 o'clock, when court adjourn o'clock this morning.

REDUCED THEIR

Vanderslip Causes a Sensation in the Auditing Department.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Assistant Secretary Vanderslip was asked about the reports that he had ordered a reduction in salaries of several chiefs and assistant chiefs of division offices of the auditing department because he had visited the offices and found these chiefs and their clerks reading newspapers and loitering during working hours, said that he had for some time been investigating the auditing of the bonds and other papers in the third auditor's of-

Last week he went to the third auditors office and accompanied by one of the officials walked into a large room where he wanted to make an investigation. He found a general state of idle-Clerks were reading newspapers or gathered in conversation. This was Humphries widows are at the present after 9 o'clock. The following Monday time. Many say they are still at some morning Mr. Vanderlip again visited department to make an investigation. Mr. Vanderlip says the same state of affairs was again discovered.

Mr. Vanderslip says he decided that the chiefs and assistant chiefs of these divisions were responsible for this state of affairs and at once ordered a reduction in their salaries. He thinks that officials of this class should have the employes under some regulations as to when work should begin and how employes should conduct themselves.

It is said by officials in the treasury department that had Mr. Vanderslip discovered the same condition in an of fice well up with its work he would Della probably have said nothing. He was sue led to this action, it is said, by the fact in t that the work in the auditor's office is nearly two years behind.

Mayor, C. A York, Aug. 10.-Colonel Amos Marshall Kimball, assistant quartermaster gen-Depo eral of the army, who during the war was in charge of the New York depot of the quartermaster's department, which furnished most of the supplies for the army, has just completed a report of the work done by his office during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899. The report says:

From the following table it will appear that the enormous sum of $17,003, 430.57 has been disbursed at this depot during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899. Of this amount the sum of $7,651, 478.60 is for supplies purchased and included in 4215 accounts. $5,632,366.86 for services included in 5731 accounts; $2,179,526.55 placed to the credit of other officers representing 357 transfers and $291,965 placed to the credit of the United States treasury. leaving a balance June 30, 1899 of $1,248.073.45.

In referring to the shipments of forage, straw, oats and similar supplies, the plan adopted of purchasing them at the lowest market rates is explained as

"Had we undertaken to ask for bids by newspaper advertisements the very large quantities asked for would have had a tendency to raise the market price whereas by obtaining the lowest quotations quietly we not only secured the lowest market rates for forage, but also special rates for shipping by commer

The work of bringing the dead from the West Indies was expeditiously performed, a complete record being taken by the clerk of the New York office as each body came off the vessel. The total expenditures on this account, inclusive of coffins and decorations reached $109, 802. After giving in detail the locations of the various recruiting stations the report states the expenses incurred on that score as $20,777, including $4845 for rent and $72 for lodgings.

TEXTILE INDUSTRIES.

They Show an Increase Over Last Year, Especially in the South.

Boston, Aug. 10.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter says the first half of the year 1899 slightly surpassed the last half of 1898 in the number of new and proposed textile enterprises entered into in the United States. Thus the total number of new enterprises launch ed the first six months of this year were 116 against 107 the last half of 1898, and and 155 in the first half of 1898.

The south continues to lead in new mill construction and the number of new enterprises compares very favorably with those of any previous year for a long time. The number of new enterprises in the north are considerably greater than for the last half of 1898, but decidedly less than that of the first half of that year. The textile mills in in the country are running full almost without exception, and more new machinery ordered during the past six months than for a like period in many

A few days ago they agreed to separate, and she signed a paper agreeing to leave him at once and never bother him again, in consideration of $75. She was asked if that suited her, and said, "Oh, I'll sign anything, and do what I intend to do afterwards.' She signed, and turning, took a bottle and poured a large dose of strychnine down her throat. Her grown son, who was present, started for a doctor, and Se the husband tried to relieve her, but she Bred in great agony in a short time.
